Pencil Notes of a Tour to the White Mountain of New Hampshire.

A drive of eight miles through a beautiul valley, over a road constructed with much care, by the side of a rocky creek, and we draw up in from of the Glen House, at the foot of Mt. Washington. Mr. Thompson is the proprietor and landlord of this Hote'.

It is large, well furnished, neat and comfortable. We are at once shown to our room, and informed that dinner will be ready in fifteen minutes.

At one o'clock precisely, the gong, that terror to nervous people, drives its brassy music into the very fibres of our brains, and we soon take notice that the modern lashion of lingering has not obtained here

The dinner is excellent, waiters suffic ent, and attentive, and perhaps we may add, that appetites, are not wanting to give a high degree of relish to our good

After dinner, our whole party rush to the piazza, and here we have before us the grand mountain picture. In the foreground, is first, Mt. Washington, at the left. A bold spur of this giant of New England, rising majestically in front, and frowning upon us in sclemn grandeur. On the right is Jefferson, and in the centre, and back-ground, Adams. But time is precious, and farther description, would be vain or tiresome in these hasty eketches.

Our party now senarate, and go off in twos and threes, some to rest, others to write, and the more youthful portion, to ramble, or seek amusement.

Late in the afternoon, fresh recruits of pleasure seekers arrive, and the mountain party of the day, come straggling in, weary and worn.

Do not form your opinion as to the danger, or propriety of ascending the mountain, from an account received from every one of these travellers. The stories you listen to, are as various as the countenances and character of those who relate them.

But it is six o'elock, and we are sum mound to the ten-table; and how we rejoice in the luxury of the best pouchong, what delicious bread and butter, with cold meats, fresh fruits, and every rarity, which assists to make up an inviting country teatable.

After tea, we find a large party on the piazza, contemplating the mountains; they are mostly quiet, observing, thoughtful; how can they be other vise? The sun has gone behind the mountains, and the brilliant, golden light, is in strong contrast with the deepening shadows on the eastern side; and our party lingers until the "trailing garments of the night" have enshrouded the majestic forms, which have held our spirits in contemplative awe, and reverence, in their mighty presence.

THE HOUSEHOLD GOOD NIGHT .- "Good THE HOUSEIGLD Goen NIGHT.—"Good night!" A loud, clear voice from the stairs said that; it was Tormny's. "Dood night!" murmurs a little something from the trundle-bed—a little something we call planny, that filled a large centre in one or two pretty large hearts, "Good night!" lisps a little fellow in a plain rifle dress, who was christened Willie about six years grees from this world to that which is to accompanied by Jo. the homestead; and very sweet music it made, too, in the twilight, and very pleasant melody it makes now, as we think of it, for it was not yesterday, nor the day before, but a long time age—so long that Tommy is Thomas Somebody, Esq., and has forgotten that he ever was a boy, and wore what the bravest and richest of us can newof boots; so long ago that Willie must stoop when he crosses the thresheld; so stoop when he crosses the threshold; so long ago that Jenny has gone the way of the old prayer she was saying—for saying another, she did as before, fell askep when she said it and never waked more. Good she was a saying another waked more. night to thee, Jenny-good night!

And so it was good night all around the house; and the children had gone through the ivory gate, always left a ajar for them—through into the land of dreams; or the golden one they call "Beautiful," into the land of angles.

In a Fourth of July speech, Mr. Wendell Philips paid his respects to the Hon. R. C. Winthrop's recent letter to the Hon. Hiram Ketenum. "I remember," and Mr. Philips, what in "Hood's Oddities," there is a picture of a spoiled child. The baby had been laid in an arm-chair, and there came in a man weighing about these had came in a man weighing about three hundred pounds, with The London Times in dred pounds, with Inc. London Times in his hand, and he sat upon it. When it was found to be dead, the convner came and said that he would have an inquest. I don't see why,' says the mother; 'it died a very natural death.' Mr. Webster sat down upon Mr. Winthrop, and there he is! He died a very natural death I I do not think it is worth while to hold an inquest Correspondence of the News, New Reprosp. July 21st, 1859.

Ma. Epiron.-Let me assume the character of historian for a few moments, and thort sketch from life. An ambitious youngster, eager to win the faurel-wreath for a short jaunt in the equally renowned and more antique city of water (if not alone in his journeying. Some four hundisembark. The hero of this romance moved onward, he sees a monumental inlanguages enables him to decipher, and thus it runs: "Eating House, meals at all hours." Here he descends into the bowels of the earth, and disposes of an uncommon ly mean dinner, paying an exhorbitantly high sum therfor. He visits a massive structure known as a fort, he acca the monument built by the Northmen, he is on that peculiar uniform called a bathing dress, he roams over the city, and discovers evening begin to gother around, he shakes the dust from his feet, and in classic phrase "vacates the premises." Mr. Editor, have tant discovery.

There has been much excitement here to-day in consequence of the detention. by a U.S. government vessel, of an alleged slaver. The ship Atlantic was lately purchassed in NewYork by a Portuguese gentleman, one Captain Sylvia, who had formerly commanded a whater from this port, and sent here to be fitted for a whaling voyage in the Indian Ocean. From certain indications it was supposed that her voyage was not to be a legal one, and the revenue cutter, which was crusing outside all day yesterday on the lookout, this morning made a seizure of the craft off Clarks Point. She has been brought up the to be bound on the same kind of errand. The matter is to be legally investigated. If nothing more serious, it was a Godsend the newspaper men.

The well known aeronaut Mr. King, is in the city for the purpose of making arrangements for a balloon race. If he can raise enough to pay expenses, $600 is the sum required, the ascension will take place from here. Messis King, Allen, and Turner are the balloonists; they intend to made an ascent, and see which can go the highest and remais in the air the longest. Rather a novel race, yet an attractive one withal.

The steamer Eagle's Wing has made an excursion to-day to Great Hill, the boat being chartered for the purpose by the brethren of the "mystic tie." About seven hundred persons were on board.

On Saturday next there is to be a railroad excursion here from Providence, a Sunday School, though what one I do not happen to know. They are to be the guests while here of the Middle St. Christian Society, and alrong the festivities of the day is a trip down the Bay in the Engle's Wing and a drive around the far famed "Point Monda," They will be accompanied by Jo. Green's American Band.

For amusements just now we have the Bunyan Talleux," a panoramic series of sixty magnificate paintings, by American artists, descriptive of the "Pilgrim's Progress from this world to that which is to come." It is well worth seeing.

THEIR PARTIOULAR SPHERE.
Lis not claimed that they will cure all disease; but those specified above, (as thousands can testify, they are the most efficacious of any now known.

Be particular, in ordering, to mention which of the three Preparations are required. If for Consumption, No., the last and 3d afternately, are best; if for Liver Complaint, &c., the 2d; or Dyspepsia, When investments;) the 2d and 3d in alternation, are more successful. In nuclerate cases, one will suffice.

There are three Preparations, one for Consumption in all its various forms; one for Liver Complaints and their attendants, (to which particular attention is called,) and one for Dyspepsia. Out of nearly two thousand strongly marked cases there have not been twenty isilares.

From numerous testimonials we select the following:

AVERY INTERESTING CASE.

Mr. D. L. Elder, (of this city.) is well known as one of the most hoppless cases of Consumption. Mesars. Houade Greek, and W. C. BUXANT, (of the Tribue and Post.) are familiar with the following facts and criticular and the constances:

Mr. Elder was articuly engaged in the ave familiar with the following facts and or incustances:

Mr. Elder was actively engaged in the last Presidential campaign, and his intense labors, day and night, broke down his health, which had not been good for many years; this was fullowed by a severe cough and bleeding from the lungs, which cantinued down to last December, when he commenced using one of these Preparations. For the previous two months he bled every day, sometimes quite profusely, and his cough was terrible. In a month's time he was able to be about through the city during all weathers, and in less than two months after beginning to use the remedy, he was engaged in canvassing the icity, and was on his feet nearly all the time from 9 o'clock in the morning till four in the afternoon, conversing with hundreds of persons; and trans cting a large amount of business. He is now as hearty a looking man as one in a thousand. His present residence is at 502 Hindson-street, New York.

Dr. Bronson can be consulted either by latter, addressed to Box 3398, P. O., or at the office of the General Agents from 9 to 12.

No. 338 Broadway, N. Y. This DELICIOUS TONIC

especially designed for the use of the Medical Profession and the Family, possesses those intrinsic medicinal properties (Tonic and Dingetic) which lielong to an Old and PURE GITY. The business of manufacturing sparious gins, and offering them as heverages, under the titles, "Aromatic,"—"Cordin,"—"Medicated." etc., has become so common, that the publie are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar forms, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute. It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established reputation - founded upon eighty years of experience - abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence. A comparison of "Bininger's Old Loudon Dock Olm" with others bearing abuniar names, will establish its superiority, and moles other Cautrest unnecessary.
